What is Included?

Room Features

Prepackaged solutions from IAS offer the features everyone wants without expensive up-front capital cost. Shift your audiovisual to a fixed known operating expense. Presentations and Web-Enabled video conferencing make the rooms functional and versatile. Interactive displays and wireless presentation that enhance the definition of collaboration. Rooms includes a high definition camera and high-quality audio with acoustic echo cancellation. What separates IAS room solutions from the others is the flexibility, scalability, and most importantly the ability to standardize across the enterprise and harvest data.

Data Analytics & Centralized Control

IAS uses data collected from sensors and the AV system itself to predict and prevent system failures, reduce energy consumption, report system usage for future planning, monitor activity, and more. Centralized control allows for easy service along with reduced down time and support cost.

Automatic System Upgrades

At the completion of the term each system will be upgraded to the latest features and technologies offered at that tier. Options are also available to keep the existing equipment at a lower rate on a per year basis with managed services.

Worry-Free Maintenance & Service

All solutions purchased as a service include preventive maintenance, managed services, and quick repair response time. Your system is under warranty the entire term of the contract which helps lower unpredicted repair costs.

*Approximate Starting Price w/5-Year Contract and $0 Down - Subject to Credit Approval

The user experience (UX) is the most important part of any solution. How often are people afraid of the technology they have at their disposal? The audiovisual system should be a tool for business which everyone uses. IAS strives to minimize the amount of time needed to set up any audiovisual system. Providing systems that just work is what IAS is all about. The user experience is about more than the technology itself. Leonardo da Vinci said it best, "Simplicity is the ultimate sophistication."

"IAS made the entire integration process easy. The solutions we are developing across the enterprise are intuitive and easy to use regardless of the experience level of the user." — Josh Mellican, AV/IT Specialist, Regional Healthcare Provider
