Worry Free Solutions

Systems Integration

IAS Technology will provide a complete audio and background music solution for establishments of all types and sizes*. Each system includes remote and on-site managed services and troubleshooting. This is a complete worry-free solution.

Revenue Generation

IAS solutions not only include the equipment, but the ability to generate a monthly recurring revenue stream for our clients. This revenue stream could help recover system costs as well as generate additional income utilizing the pay-per-play or “jukebox” application feature of the music system.

Music

Deliver a consistent experience that seamlessly connects your brand personality and business objectives. The platform provides centralized management of custom play lists that ensure the appropriate energy-level and subject matter throughout the day. Best yet, video and music content can continue to evolve based on your needs as well as customer feedback and song purchases.

The user experience (UX) is the most important part of any solution. How often are people afraid of the technology they have at their disposal? The audiovisual system should be a tool for business which everyone uses. IAS strives to minimize the amount of time needed to set up any audiovisual system. Providing systems that just work is what IAS is all about. The user experience is about more than the technology itself. Leonardo da Vinci said it best, “Simplicity is the ultimate sophistication.”

Importance of the User Experience

“IAS made the entire integration process easy. The solutions we are developing across the enterprise are intuitive and easy to use regardless of the experience level of the user.” —Josh Mellican, AV/IT Specialist, Regional Healthcare Provider
